The homepage features a navigation bar with links for Home, Our Products, About, Contact, Development, and Security. A prominent section title reads "The Web3 software company built to give back". Below this, a sub-section states: "We are a Web3 company with utility, leveraging the latest technology to provide Development and Security as a Service." A "VIEW MORE DETAILS" button is present. To the right, there's a graphic of overlapping green squares containing icons related to development and security.

This section highlights "Services we provide" with a sub-section titled "Security Audits". It includes a brief description: "We believe all ecosystems and users should be secure, no matter the cost." Below this are three icons: a padlock, three overlapping circles, and a shield with a clock. A "VIEW MORE DETAILS" button is located at the bottom right.

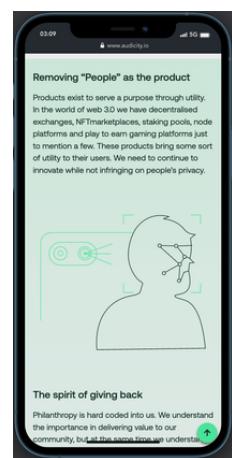

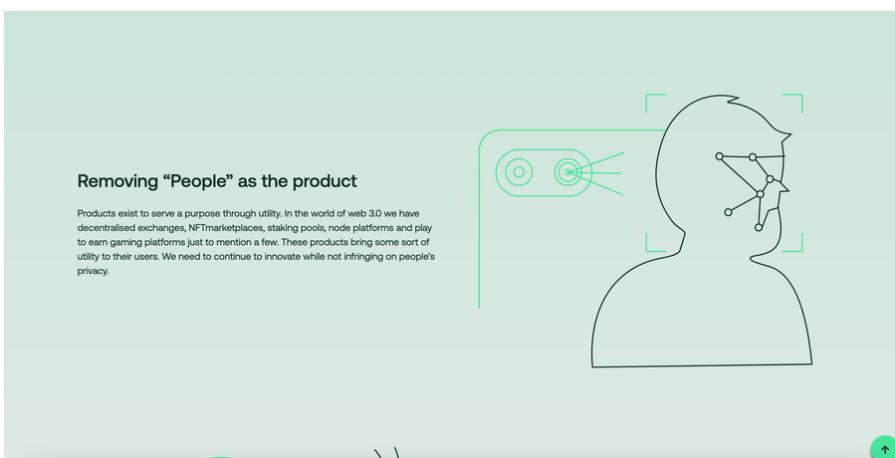

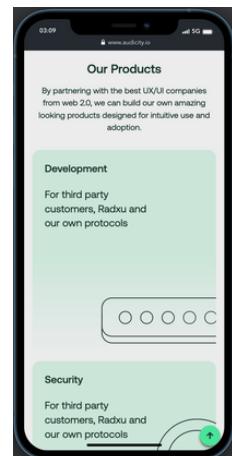

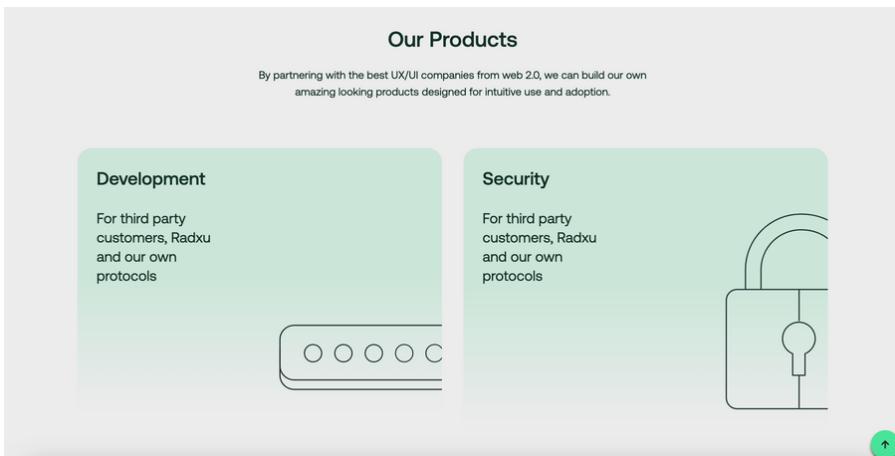

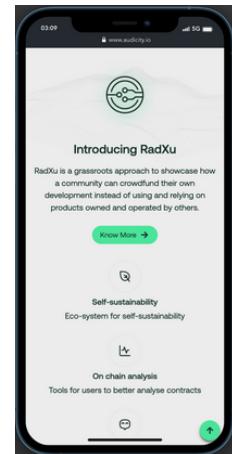

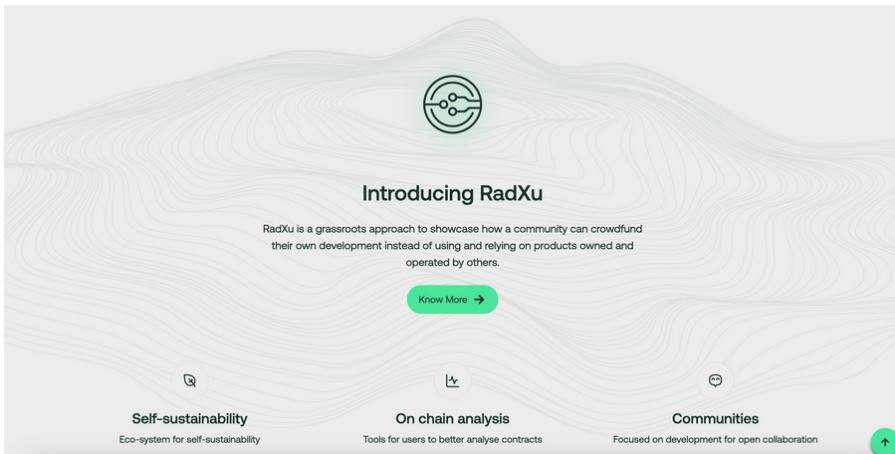

This screenshot shows the "Services we provide" section with more detailed descriptions for each service. Under "Security Audits", it says: "Peer reviewed code is always much safer than self-reviewed. Our developers can help you check your code." Under "Penetration Testing", it says: "Giving you the confidence that your products remain secure in a constantly evolving environment." Under "Safety Protocols", it says: "Building tools that provide peace of mind to businesses and users." A "VIEW MORE DETAILS" button is at the bottom right.

Radxu

<https://www.radxu.org/>

The Radxu community is committed to advocating for access and ownership of the protocols that will shape the future. As a collective, we are concerned about the limitations on our access rights to the emerging blockchain technology revolution. We are already aware that VC-funded startups have taken early ownership of the necessary tools and are taking advantage of the situation.

Our community was formed in response to the "node wars" that ensued when StrongBlock became a dominant force in the crypto world. At the time, we did not fully grasp the implications of the promises made by all node projects, which ultimately fell short of reality. Many of the node projects that emerged turned out to be either full-blown Ponzi schemes or teams that failed to follow through on their commitments.

There was a common thread among these projects that focused on investing in other yield-bearing crypto projects to buy back emissions from their own projects. This led to a cycle of Ponzi-type investments feeding into other Ponzi-type investments, ultimately creating a house of cards that was unsustainable.

SRADX is the utility token for the community protocols, which runs on the Avalanche C-Chain.

Supply: One Million Tokens
Distribution from: Community Protocols
Hosted on: Avalanche C-Chain

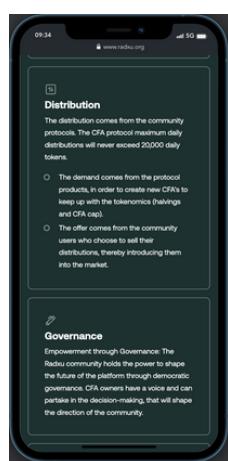

Distribution
The distribution comes from the community protocol. The CFA protocol maximum daily distributions will never exceed 20,000 daily tokens.

- The demand comes from the protocol products, in order to create new CFA's to keep up with the tokenomics (halvings and CFA cap).
- The offer comes from the community users who choose to sell their distributions, thereby introducing them into the market.

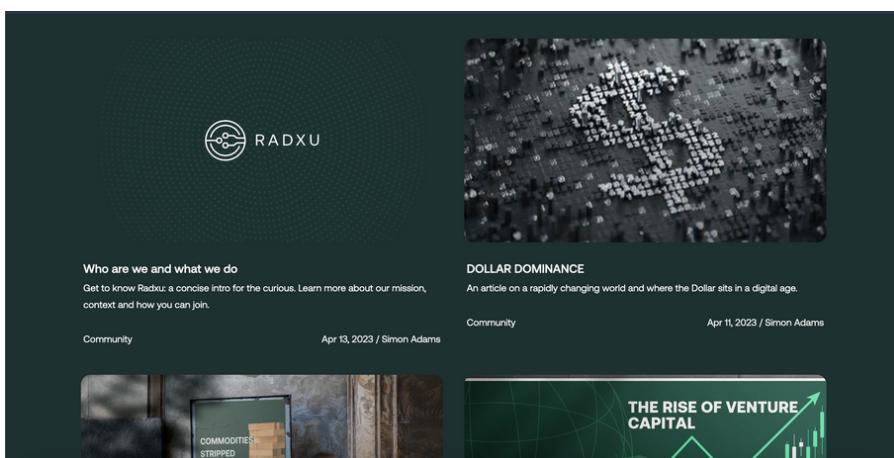

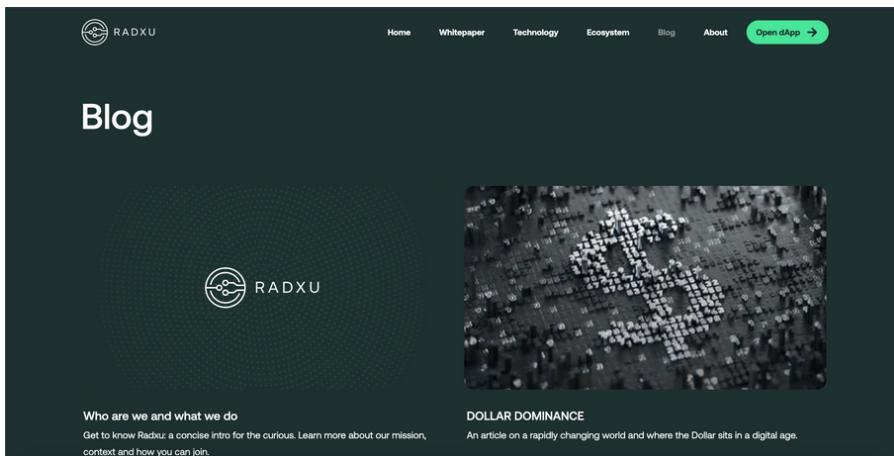

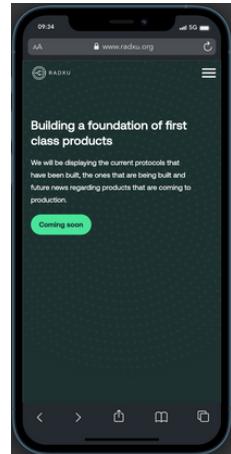

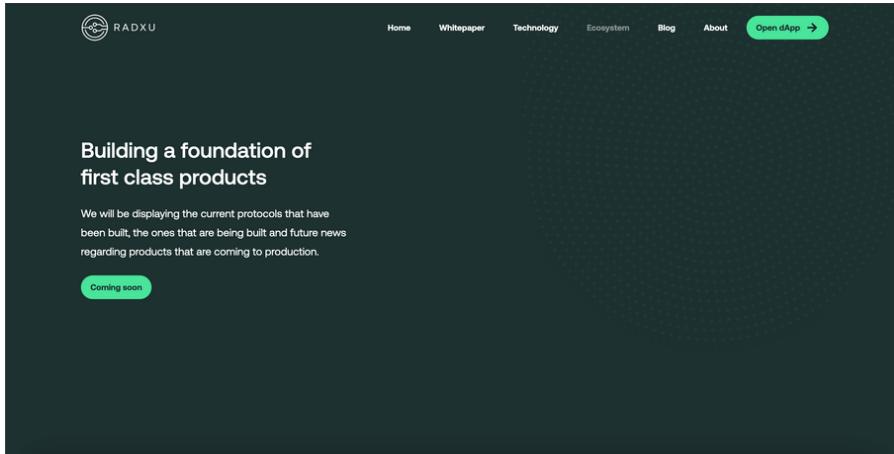

Governance
Empowerment through Governance: The Radxu community holds the power to shape the future of the platform through democratic governance. CFA owners have a voice and can partake in the decision-making, that will shape the direction of the community.

The Lockkeys

<https://the-lockkeys.unlockd.finance>

The Lockkeys have been working side by side for eons building Unlockd. They live in a highly-organized and prosperous society that duells among the machinery and gargantuan architecture of the protocol, divided into 4 classes of Lockkeys.

Mint Cashback
Receive an $UNLK airdrop covering the total cost of all your mints. If you're already entitled to a larger airdrop, a multiplier will be applied.

Early Bird Access
Early access to the Unlockd mainnet and all future features. Be the first to test pioneering and unique NFT x DeFi strategies.

Boosted Token Rewards
Receive extra token rewards and incentives for testing the protocol early features, higher than users who do not hold any Lockkey.

VIP Community Pass
Private community events in Discord and our Metaverse space. Limited alpha, gaming, education, entertainment, and more!

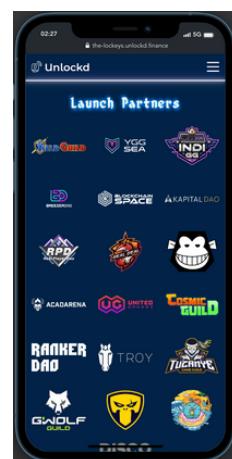

Governance Power
Until the official token is released, all holders will be able to vote on Unlockd decisions. You decide the future of The Lockkeys.

Special Promotions
Being a Lockkey holder will make you eligible for possible future promotions, limited incentive programs and fee discounts.

Bonus Surprises
The Lockkeys universe will continue to expand, full of surprises and unique opportunities for holders. Stay tuned!

Below the header is a title 'FAQs' in a light blue font. A list of ten questions is displayed in a grid format, each with a dropdown arrow to expand the answer. The questions are:

- What are The Lockkeys?
- What is the distribution of The Lockkeys collection?
- What is Unlockd?
- How is that I get a full cashback on my mints?
- What is the future of The Lockkeys?
- What is a Key Supporter?
- How does the early access utility benefit you as an user?
- Is there a fixed roadmap for the deployment of the utilities?
- Is there any difference in terms of NFT utility depending on the race or traits of my Lockkey?

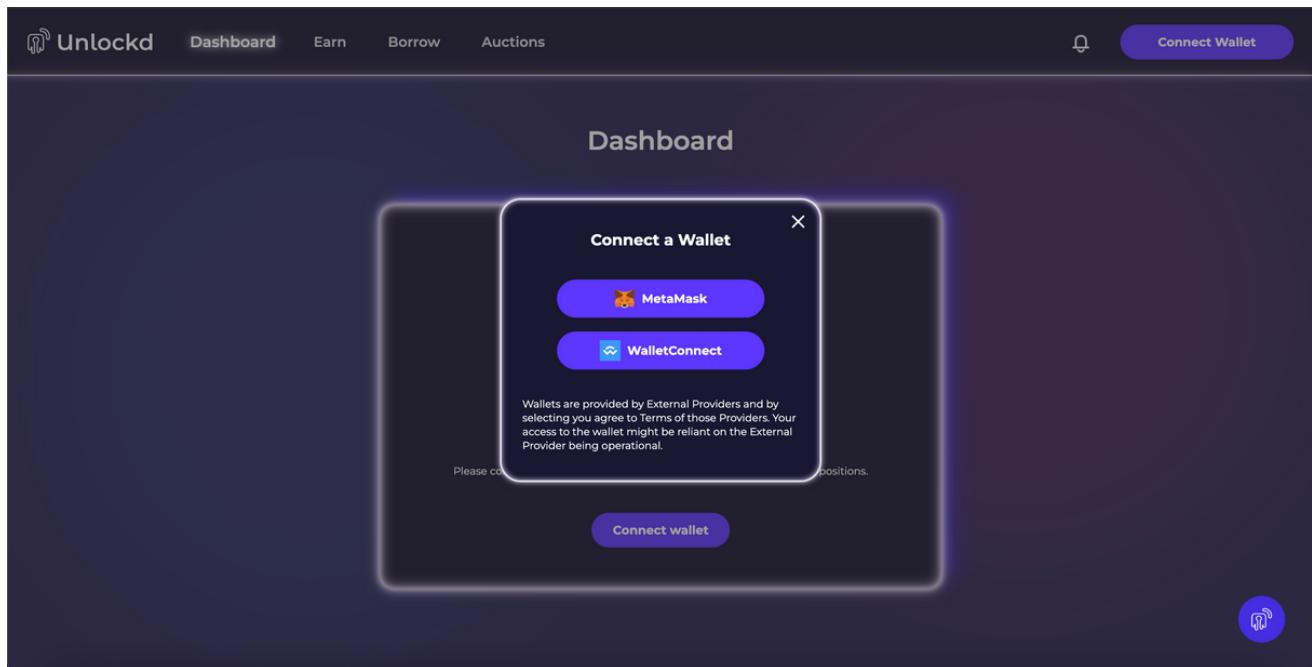

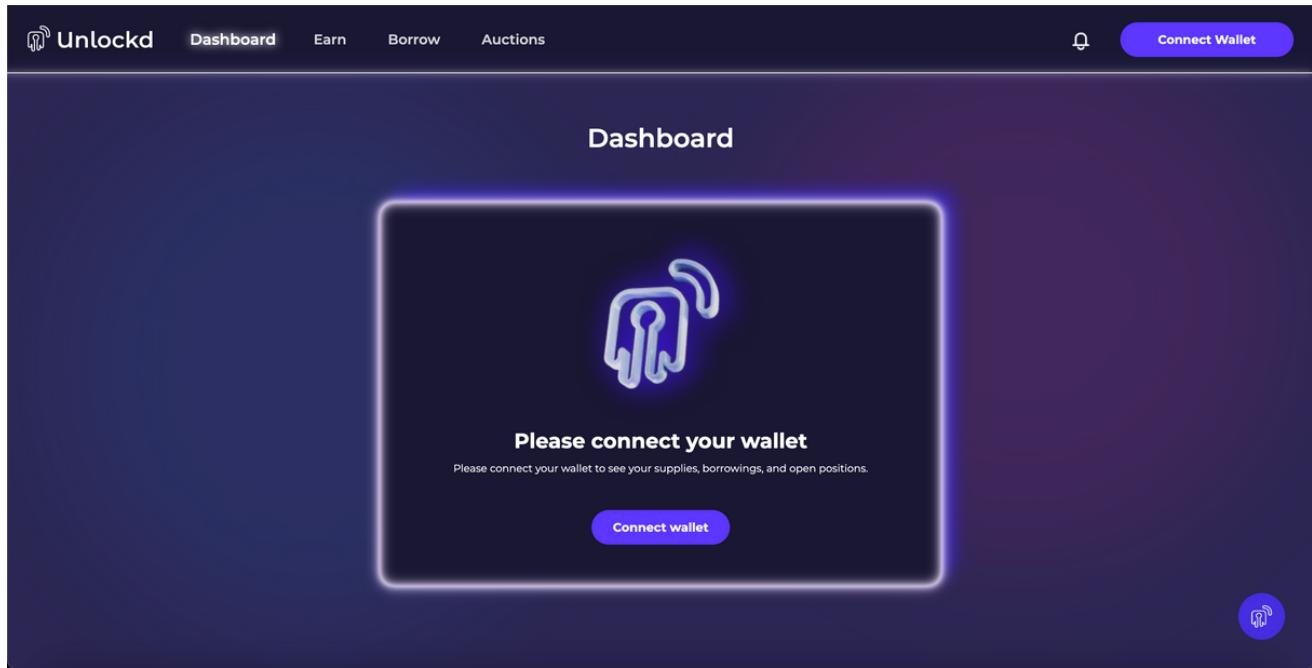

This screenshot shows the footer of the Lockkeys website. It features the 'Unlockd' logo at the top, followed by a 'Brand Kit' link. Below that are links for 'Terms of use' and 'Privacy policy'. At the bottom are social media icons for Twitter, GitHub, LinkedIn, and YouTube.
